SHOW OVERVIEW

Canada's Exclusive Trade Show: Defining the Future of Stone Industries

The 2024 StoneTech Canada Expo celebrated its 4th edition at Toronto's International Centre from October 22-24, reinforcing its role as the ultimate platform for innovation, creativity, and stone industries.

This year's event brought together 83 exhibitors from Canada and across the globe, including countries like China, Italy, Portugal, USA, UAE, Pakistan, India, and Germany, showcasing a wide range of products and technologies that pushed the boundaries of design and functionality. The DDA Canada Experience Zone returned with an exciting mood board challenge, sparking creativity among design students, while live demonstrations across the expo floor offered attendees a hands-on experience with the latest industry innovations. The conference program delivered impactful sessions featuring 14 industry experts, providing valuable insights into sustainable design, technology advancements, and strategies for growth in today's evolving market. With the milestone 5th edition on the horizon, the expo is set to continue empowering Canadian professionals while connecting them to a global stage.

This is a really good show. If you haven't attended the show, you should definitely come down and check it out the new technology on the StoneTech side is great to see.
